

LOOKING FOR ALASKAN BUILDERS WHO SPECIALIZE IN SURVIVAL CABINS

A nationally recognized production company is looking for Alaskans who track down dilapidated cabins, rebuild them, and retrofit them for survival purposes. Transforming vacant, off-the-grid camps, we're seeking builders who design and equip these last-resort shelters to withstand all types of precarious situations, especially disaster scenarios.

If you find abandoned cabins and outfit them to survive a state of emergency, we want to hear from you!

Please email survivalcabinscasting@gmail.com as soon as possible, as casting has already begun.
